

SANDRA RAMIREZ

Director - Total Portfolio Management
OMERS

Speaker

Sandra Ramirez is a Director of Economic Research in the Total Portfolio Management team at OMERS. She joined OMERS in 2016 and is responsible for providing insights on the short- and long-run global economic outlook to OMERS' stakeholders and investment teams. She played a pivotal role in the development of OMERS' Asia strategy prior to the opening of its Singapore office in 2017. At OMERS, she has also covered various trade-related issues, such as the 2018 US-China Trade-War, and in 2020, she led an OMERS-wide initiative to understand the implications of the COVID-19 pandemic on global supply chains.

Prior to joining OMERS, Sandra worked in the Financial Markets Department at the Bank of Canada, where she focused on research topics at the intersection of monetary policy and financial markets. She holds an MSc in Finance from the University of British Columbia and an Economics Specialization from the University of Toronto.
